Best Eastern Granulated Sugar 20 pounds for $1.00

H. B. COLE, - Lutesville

From Kennell

I have been a little tardy, but I thought I would write a few items for The Press again.

The fair is over and the attendance was the best in the history of the institution. It was a success in every particular and the occasion was very interesting and instructive.

We have had an abundance of rain lately, which has interfered with farming operations.

We have not had any frost here yet, but it snowed right lively for a while on October 20. It was the first time we remember having seen it snow before frost. There was a two-inch fall at Campbell.

People are about half done picking cotton. Ginned cotton has been worth $13.75.

Corn is 80 cents per bushel. Hogs are 7 cents per pound. Irish potatoes, $1.50 per bushel. Eggs, 30 cents per doz, butter, 30 cents.

Everybody is enjoying good health. I am glad "Mayfield like" is not dead yet. Come right on with your news! I would like to hear from all the old Bollinger county friends.

SWAMP ANGEL.

(The above communication was intended for last issue, but it reached us too late.—Ed.)

Marble Hill Circuit, M. E. Church, South

Yesterday closed our first month's labor with the folks on the Marble Hill circuit. It has been one of the best months of my life in the Master's service and, as I write, His glory is in my soul. Sunday, October 26, in the afternoon we preached at Ebenezer church to an interested congregation. This place is the stamping ground of the old time Methodists. Some of them are still there.

We had our church conference and failed to appoint the steward, so we announce here that Bros. Thomas Formway and B. F. Tate are the stewards for the present conference year. The attendance at all points has been good, and our hearts have leaped for joy to see the anxious faces that seemed to be hungry for the preaching of God's word.

The folks at Hickory Grove have started their Sunday School again. Also we expect to see a new roof on the church house not many days hence, and then before many weeks we young folks, with the help of the older ones, expect to place a new chapel organ in the church.

Our first quarterly conference will be held next Saturday, November 1, at Fairview church. We urge the officers and people, and everyone that possibly can, to be present Saturday at 11 o'clock to hear Bro. Court preach, and immediately after preaching conference is to be held. Dear people let's wake up on all lines and show those who look on and the presiding elder that we have some get-up-and-go in us. Up to the present we have preached eleven sermons, baptized two and received them into the church; held four church conferences, by order of conference excluded two—one withdrew. Have written fourteen pastoral letters and made twenty-six visits. We are in to do our very best for God, His cause and the dear people on this charge. Thank you, I. N. SHERROW, Pastor.

Temperance Resolutions

The fifty-second annual session of the Liberty Association of General Baptists was held at Union Hill church, Bollinger county, October 16, 17 and 18, 1913, and among other business transacted, the following resolutions were adopted:

We, your committee on temperance, beg leave to submit the following:

We feel thankful for the victories gained for the cause of temperance throughout our nation. But we regret that the advance has not been greater, inasmuch as the liquor evil is one of the greatest curses of our fair land, causing everywhere shame, poverty, disgrace and, in many instances, corruption in the ballot box.

Resolved, That we request the officers to enforce the law more strictly.

Resolved, That we request this body to instruct the clerks of this association to send a copy of this resolution to the various papers published in the counties in this association, namely: Cape Girardeau, Bollinger, Stoddard and Wayne, and request them to publish it.

H. B. GAINES,

Rev. M. F. GILBERT,

Rev. J. B. McCLARD,

N. D. HUFFMAN,

W. W. BROWN,

Committee.

The fifty-two weekly issues of The Companion will contain at least 365 stories, and all the other kinds of good reading that can be crowded between two covers—the best advice on athletics for boys, articles on dress and recreations for girls, contributions by famous men and women, suggestions for the care of the health, etc.

For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included a copy of The Companion Practical Home Calendar for 1914, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of this year, dating from the time the subscription is received.

In Memory of Charley Cheek, aged 25 years, who lost his life in a head-on collision on the Cotton Belt railroad near Stephens, Ark., October 2, 1913.

Charley was a son of our very dear brother and fellow citizen, Henry Cheek, of near Lutesville, Mo., and very precious to his father.

In the railroad section Charley stood firm and left a good name with the association he so suddenly left.

He was a Christian, having joined the Marble Hill Baptist church when a boy, and was a member of the Marginal Baptist church at the time of his death.

The funeral service was held at Moore's chapel. A large congregation listened to the sermon preached by Rev. W. A. Davault, his pastor and former teacher. It was a touching and tender service.

All who knew Charley loved him. Let us not grieve too much. The Lord knows best and we must submit to His will.

He leaves a father, mother, two brothers and three sisters, a host of other relatives and friends to mourn.

His body rests in the old Sizemore cemetery. May we all be ready when the summons comes.

A Friend.

D. J. Allen and Charles Tate Injured by Dynamite

D. J. Allen, lives near Hickory Grove church, and Charley Tate suffered painful injuries last Monday morning when three sticks of dynamite exploded in Mr. Allen's burning smokehouse, while they were doing all in their power to subdue the flames.

Mr. Allen got an ugly, painful cut just above the mouth on the right side of his face, which required several stitches, both on the inside and outside to close, and Charley Tate got a broken thumb.

The fire started in a building near the smokehouse, which was used to house some young chickens, and the weather being quite cool for the little fowls, a stove was brought into requisition and a fire started in it. This was done by Mr. Allen's son, Ossie, who left the premises shortly afterwards and had not been gone long when Mr. Allen discovered that the building was burning and hurried to the scene from the barn.

Charley Tate, near by, hurried to his assistance, but with all the best efforts they could put forth the smokehouse was soon in flames. Mr.

Allen had used some dynamite some time ago and three sticks of it were left and this, with the cans were in the smokehouse and of course when the fire reached it a terrible explosion was the result and the wonder is that one of them was not killed.

By this time other neighbors had arrived and with the help of the rain, saved the dwelling. Mr. Allen lost all his meat, live geese, the chickens and other things along with his smokehouse. His dwelling was slightly damaged, too.

They both came to town as soon as possible and had their injuries treated and it is hoped they will recover in a short time.

Missouri democrats and, in fact, for all illegal business men and farmers of Missouri, with regard to party, are with President Wilson good and strong on the currency revision measure. They have their eyes on the equity committee on banks and currency now in charge of the bill and will be disappointed if there is any unnecessary delay in handling the bill.
